Social at Christian Church.

The young ladies of the Christian Church will give a social Thursday, Feb. 9th, in the church parlors. This social is for the benefit of some charitable work these young ladies are doing, which is not only in the Christian Church, but they are taking care of some sick who are not in their church. Some of the best musical talent of the city will give some selections, and hot chocolate and wafers will be served by some of the prettiest girls in town. No admission will be charged, but a contribution basket will be near the door, where free-will offerings will be accepted.

A Colonial Tea.

The Jemima Johnson Chapter, D. A. R., propose to celebrate February 22d by giving a Colonial Tea, at the Elks building on the evening of that date.

The National Society Daughters of the American Revolution, numbers 42,000, and three years ago celebrated the purchase of a $350,000 lot fronting the public reservation on 70th street, known as the White House lot, in the proximity of the White House, Washington's monument, Corcoran Art Gallery and fashionable speedway. One third of this amount was then raised. Now it is proposed that all Chapters of D. A. R. unite on the 22d of February in a general observance, for the benefit of the Memorial Hall fund. The work of construction is being proceeded with as rapidly as possible. The erection of this Hall to the memory of the soldiers of the Revolution, will be the crowning work of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

The Daughters desire the hearty co-operation of our citizens and extend a cordial welcome.

Decision Favoring National Banks.

The Court of Appeals Wednesday in a decision written by Judge Orear, with the whole court sitting, but with Judges Paynter and Nunn dissenting, reversed itself and gave judgment for the National banks in a case from the Marion Circuit Court. The decision was one of the most far-reaching delivered by the court in years, as it practically frees the National banks of the State from taxation when their assets are invested in government bonds.

The court holds that when the capitalization for the State, county or municipal banks is invested in government bonds it is exempt from assessment for taxation for State, county or municipal purposes. The decision will cut the State's revenue off by many thousands of dollars per annum.

Dog Found.

A beautiful white poodle dog, with a red ribbon around his neck, was found on North Middletown pike, near town, Wednesday morning. Owner can get same by applying at this office, paying for ad, and giving reward to finder.

Horrible Death.

A. M. Miller, a Conductor on the Chesapeake & Ohio railroad, who lived at Lexington, was burned to death Tuesday morning at 4 o'clock on the C. and O. railroad, one mile east of Preston, by being pinioned under a red hot stove overturned in a wreck. The caboose in which the men were riding was derailed while train No. 75 was rounding a sharp curve one mile east of Preston. When the caboose overturned Mr. Miller was caught beneath a red hot stove, and being pinioned down by the fixtures in the car, was literally cooked to death. Mr. Flynn was thrown beneath some of the car fixtures, but he crawled out and in a dazed condition tried as hard as he could to rescue Mr. Miller from being cremated.

Are You Interested In Paris?

If you are interested in your home town, then spend your money at home. No better way to do this than by sending your laundry to the Bourbon Steam. Remember their pay roll is several hundred dollars a week, all of which is spent with Paris merchants.

Investigation Demanded.

Col. Bennett H. Young, President of the Kentucky Confederate Home, has sent a telegram to Lieut. Gov. W. P. Thorne, requesting him to appoint a committee at once to investigate the management of the home in compliance with the resolution introduced by Senator Ben Johnson in the Senate Tuesday. The resolution was the result of charges preferred by Alexander Lawson, who was discharged as an employee of the institution.
